

People don't want to call around for cleaners anymore.

They want to see services, trust the company, request a quote, book a clean, get reminders, and know someone will answer fast. A Facebook-only business can lose that customer before the first conversation happens.

24/7

LEAD CAPTURE

Calls, texts, forms, and Facebook inquiries get answered even when the team is cleaning.

1

BOOKING PATH

Residential, commercial, move-out, deep clean, Airbnb, and recurring cleans route cleanly.

30

DAY TRIAL

Test with a dedicated booking/quote line before changing the main number.

Competitors look easier to book. That's the problem.

The cleaning market around Peterborough/Kawartha is crowded. The companies that win online make booking feel simple: clear services, trust proof, online forms, pricing cues, reminders, and fast replies.

High

CUSTOMER INTENT

Cleaning leads are often ready now: move-out deadline, Airbnb turnover, office clean, deep clean, post-reno mess, recurring home care.

Low

BOOKING FRICTION ALLOWED

If the only option is "call us," many customers move to a competitor with instant quote or online booking.

What the prospect has

Facebook presence

Personal/local trust

Easy to message

Facebook can generate warm local leads, but it is not a complete booking system. Messages get buried and callers still need someone available.

What they are missing

No website

No service pages

No booking calendar

No quote form

No automated reminders

Kawarth Clean Queens needs one clean place to send people: quote, book, ask questions, and get followed up automatically.

Competitive snapshot

Peterborough Cleaning Services

✓ "Book online instantly" and "book now in 60 seconds."

Takeaway: speed is part of the offer.

AnyClean Peterborough

✓ Online booking, transparent package prices, 4.9/5 rating, insured teams, open 7 days.

Takeaway: trust + convenience sells.

KHK / Local cleaners

✓ Booking pages, cottage/rental/commercial positioning, licensed/bonded trust claims.

Takeaway: local proof matters.

Turn every cleaning inquiry into a booked job or follow-up.

The goal is simple: stop relying on memory, voicemail, and scattered Facebook messages. Give customers a clean path from interest to booked clean.

How 1APP would work for a cleaning company

1

Lead asks

Phone, text, Facebook, Google, or quote form.

2

Instant reply

AI/SMS asks service type, location, timing, size, and access notes.

3

Quote or book

Routine jobs book online; larger jobs route to a quote.

4

Reminders

Customer gets confirmation, prep notes, and appointment reminders.

5

Repeat

Reviews, referrals, recurring cleans, and rebooking follow-up run automatically.

Recommended workflows

01

Missed-call text back

If a call is missed, the customer instantly gets a text asking what type of clean they need.

02

Cleaning quote intake

Capture home size, service type, pets, preferred date, recurring vs one-time, photos, and access details.

03

Booking calendar

Let customers book recurring cleans, deep cleans, move-in/move-out, Airbnb turnovers, or estimate calls.

04

Prep reminders

Send "how to prepare" messages: tidy clutter, pet notes, access instructions, parking, and lockbox details.

05

Recurring clean reminders

Weekly, bi-weekly, monthly, and seasonal reactivation campaigns keep the schedule full.

06

Review + referral engine

After each completed clean, request a review and ask for referrals from happy customers.

Start with a 30-day trial that proves the front office works.

They do not need to port their number or build a huge website first. Start with a dedicated trial booking line, quote page, inbox, calendar, and follow-up system.

30-day trial setup

- Dedicated local booking/quote number
- Calls forwarded to current phone
- Missed-call text back
- 2-way text/email inbox
- Simple quote/booking landing page
- Cleaning service intake form
- Booking calendar
- Basic CRM pipeline
- Appointment reminders
- Review request automation

What they can test

- Can customers request a quote faster?
- Can missed calls be recovered?
- Can bookings happen without phone tag?
- Can reminders reduce no-shows/confusion?
- Can reviews/referrals become automatic?
- Can recurring cleaning clients be rebooked easier?

Trial goal: prove convenience before asking for a larger build.
